

Giving Priorities

We are aware that the competition for corporate involvement is increasing. This also means that we continue to receive many more requests for support than we can possibly fulfill. Each request will be thoroughly reviewed. Please take the time to consider how your program fits into our giving priorities before you submit a request. Requesting organizations will receive notification of a funding decision within 60 days.

Cash America recognizes the intrinsic value of investing in our communities through following five areas of partnership and charitable giving.

Education/Financial Literacy – Non-profits and schools with educational missions, especially those with an emphasis placed on at-risk/low-income youth.

- Vocational Training – helping people acquire the skills they need to (re)enter the workforce
- Financial Literacy – programs and services that teach responsible financial management to adults and young adults
- Enrichment Activities – after-school programs (i.e., music, computers, athletics, tutoring) that enhance classroom curriculums
- Student Advancement – tutoring, mentoring, scholarships, and other support aimed at helping students succeed in school

Families in Need – Community-based programs which focus on providing essential services to children and their families.

- Food Resources
- Emergency Shelter
- Health Services

Public Safety Initiatives – Programs dedicated to making local communities safer for our youth, employees and customers.

- Child Safety
- Neighborhood Safety
- Partnerships with law enforcement initiatives

Natural Disaster Relief Programs – Response to a catastrophic situation, providing aid to persons and communities who have suffered from some form of disaster (i.e. tornadoes, hurricanes, earthquakes) that affects our customers, coworkers and neighborhoods we serve.

Our Military and Their Families – Programs and services that support military families with a variety of needs.

We generally do not support the following:
