Target Reports Fourth Quarter and Full-Year 2013 Earnings

Fourth quarter Adjusted EPS of $1.30; full-year Adjusted EPS of $4.38

Fourth quarter GAAP EPS of $0.81; full-year GAAP EPS of $3.07

- Target's U.S. operations generated fourth quarter Adjusted earnings per share of $1.30, at the high end of the updated guidance provided in January.
- Canadian Segment dilution of (40) cents in the fourth quarter compares with prior guidance of approximately (45) cents.
- Target's full-year 2013 Adjusted earnings per share of $4.38 reflect disciplined inventory and expense management despite softer-than-expected U.S. sales.
- In 2013, the Company returned $2.5 billion to shareholders through dividends and share repurchase, representing more than 125 percent of net earnings.
- Target's U.S. comparable sales decreased (2.5)% in the fourth quarter, consistent with prior guidance, driven by positive comparable sales prior to our December 19 announcement of a data breach, followed by meaningfully softer results following the announcement.

MINNEAPOLIS (February 26, 2014) – Target Corporation (NYSE: TGT) today reported fourth quarter net earnings of $520 million, or $0.81 per share, and full-year net earnings of $1,971 million, or $3.07 per share. Dilution related to the Canadian Segment affected fourth quarter and full-year GAAP EPS by (40) cents and $(1.13), respectively. Adjusted earnings per share¹ were $1.30 in fourth quarter 2013, down 21.2 percent from $1.65 in 2012. Full-year 2013 Adjusted EPS of $4.38 was down 8.0 percent from $4.76 in 2012. The tables attached to this press release provide a reconciliation of non-GAAP to GAAP measures. All earnings per share figures refer to diluted earnings per share.

“For more than 50 years Target has succeeded by focusing on our guests,” said Gregg Steinhafel, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Target Corporation. “During the first half of the fourth quarter, our guest-focused holiday merchandising and marketing plans drove better-than-expected sales. However, results softened meaningfully following our December announcement of a data breach. As we plan for the new fiscal year, we will continue to work tirelessly to win back the confidence of our guests and deliver irresistible merchandise and offers, and we are encouraged that sales trends have improved in recent weeks.”

¹Adjusted diluted earnings per share (“Adjusted EPS”), a non-GAAP financial measure, excludes the impact of certain matters not related to our routine retail operations, such as expenses related to the data breach and the reduction in the beneficial interest asset.

Fiscal 2014 Earnings Guidance

Fiscal 2014 will be Target’s first full year of operating stores in Canada. As a result, beginning with first quarter 2014, the company will no longer exclude Canadian Segment results from Adjusted EPS. For comparison purposes, prior year Adjusted EPS will also include Canadian Segment results.

In first quarter 2014, the Company expects Adjusted EPS of 60 cents to 75 cents, reflecting operating results in our U.S. and Canadian Segments. This measure excludes approximately (2) cents related to the expected reduction of the beneficial interest asset², as well as any net expenses related to the data breach. For full-year 2014, Target expects Adjusted EPS of $3.85 to $4.15, reflecting operating results in our U.S. and Canadian Segments. This measure excludes approximately (7) cents related to the expected reduction of the beneficial interest asset², as well as any net expenses related to the data breach.

At this time, the Company is not able to estimate future expenses related to the data breach. Expenses may include payments associated with potential claims by the payment card networks for alleged counterfeit fraud losses and non-ordinary course operating expenses (such as card re-issuance costs), REDcard fraud and card re-issuance expense, payments associated with civil litigation, governmental investigations and enforcement proceedings, expenses for legal, investigative and consulting fees, and incremental expenses and capital investments for remediation activities. These costs may have a material adverse effect on Target's results of operations in first quarter and full-year 2014 and future periods.

U.S. Segment Results³

As a reminder, following the sale of the U.S. credit card portfolio in March 2013, Target's historical U.S. Retail Segment and U.S. Credit Card Segment results were combined to form a new U.S. Segment. Selling, General and Administrative (SG&A) expenses in the new U.S. Segment include income from the profit-sharing arrangement with TD Bank Group, net of servicing expenses. The company classified historical U.S. Credit Card Segment revenues and expenses within U.S. Segment SG&A expenses.⁴

In fourth quarter 2013, sales decreased 6.6 percent to $20.9 billion from $22.4 billion last year, reflecting the impact of an additional accounting week in 2012⁵ and a 2.5 percent decrease in comparable sales, partially offset by the contribution from new stores. Segment earnings before interest expense and income taxes (EBIT) were $1,413 million in fourth quarter 2013, a decrease of 22.4 percent from $1,821 million in 2012.

Fourth quarter EBITDA and EBIT margin rates were 9.2 percent and 6.8 percent, respectively, compared with 10.4 percent and 8.1 percent in the revised U.S. Segment in 2012. Fourth quarter gross margin rate was 27.6 percent compared with 27.8 percent in 2012, reflecting the impact of clearance markdowns combined with Target's integrated growth strategies, partially offset by a 0.2 percentage-point benefit from changes to certain vendor agreements. Fourth quarter SG&A expense rate was 18.4 percent in 2013 compared with 17.3 percent in the revised U.S. Segment in 2012. This increase was driven by a smaller contribution from the credit card portfolio, which raised the SG&A rate by approximately 0.5 percentage points, the change to certain vendor agreements and the de-leveraging impact of softer-than-expected sales.

Full-year 2013 sales decreased 0.9 percent to $71.3 billion from $72.0 billion last year, reflecting the impact of an additional accounting week in 2012⁵ and a 0.4 percent decrease in comparable sales, partially offset by the contribution from new stores. Full-year EBIT was $4,959 million in 2013, a decrease of 11.3 percent from $5,589 million in 2012.

Full-year 2013 EBITDA and EBIT margin rates were 9.8 percent and 7.0 percent, respectively, compared with 10.6 percent and 7.8 percent in the revised U.S. Segment in 2012. Full-year gross margin rate increased to 29.8 percent from 29.7 percent in 2012, reflecting category-level rate improvements and approximately 0.2 percentage-points of benefit from changes to certain vendor agreements, partially offset by incremental clearance markdowns and the impact of Target's integrated growth strategies. Full-year 2013 SG&A expense rate was 20.0 percent, compared with 19.1 percent in the revised U.S. Segment in 2012. This increase was driven by a smaller contribution from the credit card portfolio, which raised the SG&A rate by approximately 0.5 percentage points, investments in technology and supply chain in support of multichannel initiatives and the change to certain vendor agreements.

³See the "Non-Segment Impacts to Consolidated GAAP Earnings per Share" section of this release for information about certain expenses that were included in our Consolidated Statements of Operations as SG&A, but were not part of our U.S. Segment results.

⁴Quarterly and full-year historical information for the three most recently completed years reflecting the impact of the reclassification, and the results for our two segments, U.S. and Canadian, are attached as Exhibit (99) to our current report on Form 8-K filed April 16, 2013.

⁵The three- and twelve-month periods ended February 1, 2014 were 13- and 52-week periods, respectively, compared with 14- and 53- week periods ended February 2, 2013. The extra week is excluded from the comparable-sales calculation.

Canadian Segment Results

In fourth quarter 2013, the Canadian Segment generated sales of $623 million and EBIT of $(329) million. The fourth quarter gross margin rate of 4.4 percent reflects continued efforts to clear excess inventory. Canadian operations reduced fourth quarter GAAP EPS by (40) cents⁶.

During fiscal 2013, Target's Canadian Segment generated sales of $1.3 billion at a gross margin rate of 14.9 percent and EBIT of $(941) million. Canadian operations reduced Target's full-year 2013 GAAP EPS by $(1.13)⁶.

⁶This amount includes interest expense and tax expense that are not included in the segment measure of profit. A reconciliation of non-GAAP financial measures is included in the tables attached to this release.

Non-Segment Impacts to Consolidated GAAP Earnings per Share

Target incurred charges in fourth quarter 2013 related to part-time team member health benefit changes, land impairments and workforce reductions. The combined effect of these charges increased fourth quarter Consolidated SG&A expense by approximately $64 million.

During fourth quarter 2013, Target experienced a data breach in which an intruder gained unauthorized access to our network and stole certain payment card and other guest information. The Company incurred $17 million of net expense in the fourth quarter, reflecting $61 million of total expenses partially offset by the recognition of a $44 million insurance receivable. These expenses include costs related to investigating the data breach, offering credit-monitoring and identity-theft protection services to our guests, increased staffing in our call centers, procurement of legal and other professional services, REDcard fraud losses and card replacement costs, and an accrual for a probable loss on payment card networks' anticipated claims for operating expenses incurred as a result of the data breach. This accrual was based on an expectation of reaching negotiated settlements of the payment card networks' potential claims for alleged non-ordinary course operating expenses associated with the data breach, and not on any determination that it is probable we would be found liable on these claims were they to be litigated. It does not include any amounts for the potential claims by the payment card networks for counterfeit fraud losses. At this time we are not able to reasonably estimate a range of possible losses on the payment card networks' potential claims in excess of the amount accrued.

Interest Expense and Taxes

Target's fourth quarter 2013 net interest expense decreased 21.2 percent to $161 million from $204 million in 2012, benefiting from debt retirement in first quarter 2013 resulting from the use of proceeds from the sale of the credit card portfolio. Full-year interest expense in 2013 increased to $1,126 million from $762 million in 2012, reflecting a $445 million charge related to the early retirement of debt in first quarter 2013, partially offset by the benefit from debt retirement resulting from the use of proceeds from the sale of the credit card portfolio.

The Company's effective income tax rate was 37.0 percent in the fourth quarter, compared with 34.3 percent in fourth quarter 2012. The increase of 2.7 percentage points was driven by the net effect of increased losses related to Canadian operations partially offset by a higher year-over-year benefit from the favorable resolution of various income tax matters. Target's full-year 2013 effective income tax rate was 36.5 percent, an increase of 1.6 percentage points from 34.9 percent in 2012, which was driven by the net effect of increased losses related to Canadian operations combined with a lower year-over-year benefit from the favorable resolution of various income tax matters.

Capital Returned to Shareholders

In fourth quarter 2013, the Company paid dividends of $272 million. Target did not repurchase any shares of its common stock during the quarter, reflecting current performance and the Company's commitment to maintain its strong investment-grade credit ratings.

For full year 2013, Target returned more than 125 percent of net earnings to shareholders. In 2013, the company repurchased approximately 21.9 million shares of its common stock at an average price of $67.41 for a total investment of $1.47 billion, and paid dividends of $1.0 billion.

Accounting Considerations

At the close of the sale of its entire U.S. consumer credit card receivables portfolio to TD Bank Group in first quarter 2013, Target recognized a $225 million beneficial interest asset, which effectively represented a receivable for the present value of future profit-sharing Target expected to receive on the receivables sold. The Company estimates the asset will be reduced over the four-year period following the close of the transaction, with larger reductions in the early years. The beneficial interest asset was reduced in fourth quarter 2013 by $16 million and $98 million for the full year.

The Company's fourth quarter and full-year 2012 GAAP earnings included pre-tax gains of $5 million and $161 million, respectively, associated with the agreement to sell the entire U.S. consumer credit card receivables portfolio to TD Bank Group. These gains are related to the accounting treatment of the consumer credit receivables as "held for sale" assets.

Miscellaneous

Target Corporation will webcast its fourth quarter earnings conference call at 9:30 a.m. CST today. Investors and the media are invited to listen to the call through the Company's website at www.target.com/investors (click on "events & presentations"). A telephone replay of the call will be available beginning at approximately 11:30 a.m. CST today through the end of business on February 28, 2014. The replay number is (855) 859-2056 (passcode: 78423307).

Statements in this release regarding first quarter and full-year 2014 earnings guidance and the impact of the data breach on the Company's results of operations are forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements speak only as of the date they are made and are subject to risks and uncertainties which could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially. The most important risks and uncertainties are described in Item 8.01 of the Company's Form 8-K filed on February 26, 2014.

In addition to the GAAP results provided in this release, the Company provides Adjusted diluted earnings per share for the three- and twelve-month periods ended February 1, 2014 and February 2, 2013, respectively. This measure is not in accordance with, or an alternative for, generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. The most comparable GAAP measure is diluted earnings per share. Management believes Adjusted EPS is useful in providing period-to-period comparisons of the results of the Company's U.S. operations. Adjusted EPS should not be considered in isolation or as a substitution for analysis of the Company's results as reported under GAAP. Other companies may calculate Adjusted EPS differently than the Company does, limiting the usefulness of the measure for comparisons with other companies.

^(a) Total Canadian losses include interest expense of $18 and $20 million for the three months ended February 1, 2014 and February 2, 2013, respectively, and $77 million and $78 million for the twelve months ended February 1, 2014 and February 2, 2013. Total Canadian losses also include taxes allocated to the Canadian Segment based on income tax rates applicable to the operations of the Segment for the period. Tax benefits were $95 million and $51 million for the three months ended February 1, 2014 and February 2, 2013, respectively, and $295 million and $132 million for the twelve months ended February 1, 2014 and February 2, 2013.

^(b) 2013 adjustment represents consideration received in the first quarter from the sale of our U.S. credit card receivables in excess of the recorded amount of the receivables. Consideration included a beneficial interest asset of $225 million. The 2012 adjustment represents the gain on receivables held for sale.

^(c) For the three and twelve months ended, February 2, 2013, other items included a $23 million workforce-reduction charge primarily related to severance and benefits costs, a $22 million charge related to part-time team member health benefit changes, and $19 million in impairment charges related to certain parcels of undeveloped land.

^(d) For the three and twelve months ended, February 2, 2013, we recorded $61 million of pretax Data Breach-related expenses, and expected insurance proceeds of $44 million, for net expenses of $17 million.
